HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL DAY

27th January 2012

SPEAK UP SHOUT OUT

SHOUT
JUST TELL SOMEONE

Using our Voice

Everyone has a fundamental Human Right to freedom of speech. Each of us has a voice and has the choice to use it. The choices we make in the words and language we use every day contribute to creating a safe and fair society. Voices from the past and present which can inspire us, such as the Rosenstraße protests of 1943 when the German wives of 1,600 Jewish men who had been held in Rose Street, Berlin spoke up and secured their release.

Giving a Voice to the Voiceless

The works of many charitable organisations give voices to the voiceless. Survivors Fund works to ensure that the memory of the 1994 genocide is not forgotten and to create a safer future for Rwandans.

Sustaining the Legacy of Voices from the Past

Dr Ludwig Guttman, the founder of the Paralympics, was a Jewish doctor who fled Germany in 1939 to seek refuge in England. His work with disabled people led him to establish the Paralympics. He spoke up for the rights of disabled people to be given the same opportunities in the sporting arena as other athletes.

We know that voices have been taken away in the past, and are ignored or still silenced today. As the world focuses on the UK in the Olympic year of 2012, we must use our voices to speak up. Discrimination and exclusion are still rife in our communities, we hear stories of atrocities from across the world, yet some remain bystanders.

The Dialogue of Action

Pope Benedict, in his meeting with religious leaders when he came to the UK, spoke of the “dialogue of action ... in concrete forms of collaboration”. Last month, during an audience at the Vatican, Chief Rabbi Lord Sacks discussed with Pope Benedict their mutual fears for Europe’s future. In a lecture prior to the audience, the Chief Rabbi said, “When a civilisation loses its faith, it loses its future. When it recovers its faith, it recovers its future. For the sake of our children, and their children not yet born, we – Jews and Christians, side-by-side – must renew our faith and its prophetic voice. We must help Europe rediscover its soul.”

Celebrating and honouring difference

We remember that we are all created in God’s own likeness and celebrate the wonderful diversity of race and cultures in our world. As we enrich our lives by ever-widening circles of fellow feeling and understanding, we need to recognize God’s presence in those most different from us and speak up for those who suffer in any way.

Suggestion for a Bidding Prayer

God of compassion, hear the cry of those who suffer political oppression; those who languish in prisons and labour camps, untried or falsely condemned; those whose bodies are shattered, or whose minds are unhinged by torture or deprivation. Meet them in their anguish and despair and kindle in them the light of hope and the assurance of your love. Give us the courage to speak up for what we understand to be right. Enable us to learn the lessons of the past so that we may create a safer, better future. Help us, on this Holocaust Memorial Day to Speak Up and Speak Out. In the name of him who suffered, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

God, our loving Father, we honour the memory of all those whose lives were so tragically lost in the Holocaust and in more recent genocides.
