

Character Biographies

In the following pages you will see a couple of fact sheets to help your young people get a little bit of the flavour of the people spoken of in the readings for this weekend.

This social media style is very familiar with young people and it may be more possible to use this format to get some good teaching through to your groups.

You will see that the St Dismas card has been left blank, this is to allow young people to create their own. There are a few legends of St Dismas out there, but also groups will also have a chance to reflect on a little of their own experiences.
