

General Instruction for the Roman Missal

Publication date - 14 April 2005

In 2002 the Holy See published the 3rd typical edition of the Roman Missal. This introductory material has been translated and published in advance of the rest of the Missal, to assist the dioceses of England & Wales in promoting worthy celebrations of the Eucharist.

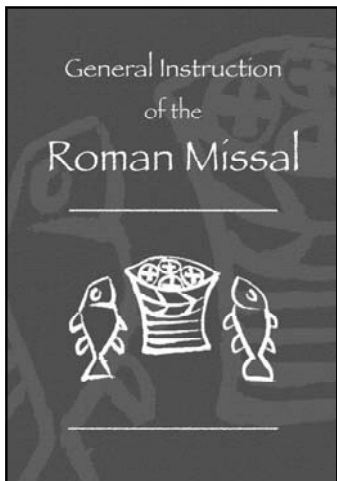

“The Mass builds up the Body of Christ, which is the Church. I encourage every priest, deacon and member of the lay faithful to study the contents of this General Instruction and to find here fresh inspiration for the preparation and celebration of the Mass.”

(Cardinal Cormac Murphy-O'Connor)

Celebrating the Mass

Publication date - 14 April 2005

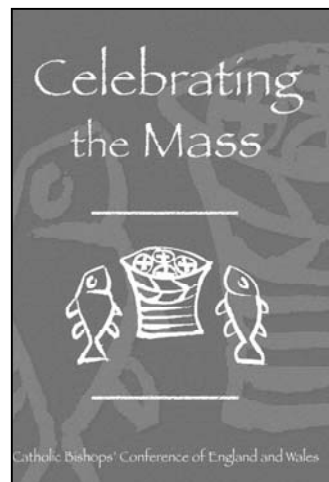

Written by the Bishops of England & Wales to assist their dioceses when engaging with the implications of the General Instruction. Recommended reading for all liturgical ministers—clergy, preparation teams, musicians and all those interested in developing a deeper understanding of how the Church seeks to celebrate Mass.

“Celebrating the Mass will be a great assistance to both communities and individuals... seeking to celebrate the Mass more faithfully, reverently and fruitfully.”

With Hearts and Minds

Publication date - 14 April 2005

A resource for small groups, intended to assist participants to a deeper appreciation of the nature and role of the Liturgy in the life of the Christian community; to participate more deeply in the Liturgy.

It presents in a more accessible form the teaching about parish celebration of the liturgy that is in the General Instruction and in Celebrating the Mass. Through reflection on the scriptures, Church teaching and their own experience group members will be helped to develop both their understanding of the Mass and a liturgical spirituality.
